

Leslie Clio

BIO In 2013 Leslie Clio released her first record "Gladys", a retro soul pop record which got her signed to Universal Music and charted at #11 in the German album charts . The singles "I Couldn't Care Less" and "Told You So" became instant airplay hits and earned her a nomination for an "ECHO" Award in the category "Best Female Artist National". Following the success of her first album, Leslie Clio released her second record "Eureka" (Universal Music) in spring 2015. The first single "My Heart Ain't That Broken" became another top 50 airplay song and has exceeded almost 18 million streams on Spotify by now. Her third, critically high acclaimed record "Purple" was released May 2017, another acoustic Ep followed. In 2018 she was part of the cast of Germany's television series "Sing meinen Song". In June 2019 she released "Repeat", an EP with 6 cover songs. Leslie is currently producing her 4th studio album.

HIGHLIGHTS

2019-2017 #107 Live Shows (Luxemburg, Poland, Germany) #105.000 tickets #Gold "My Heart Ain't That Broken" and „I Couldn't Care Less" #Support of Rea Garvey Neon Summer Tour #part of the cast of Germany's television series "Sing meinen Song" #third record "Purple"
2016 #part of the german Eurovision song contest jury for the Eurovision
2015 #second record "Eureka" (Universal Music) charted at 13
2013 #first record "Gladys" (Universal Music) charted at 11 in German album charts and sold over 65.000 units #Support of Phoenix, Keane and Joss Stone

